WEATHER READY!

The city of Houston is no stranger to chaotic and unpredictable weather that includes hurricane season, rolling blackouts, intense heat temperatures, derechos and so many other unprecedented weather types. At HHCU, we want to keep our members informed about the latest credit union updates by offering several ways to keep you informed while helping you access your funds during inclement weather.

Here are 5 ways you can prepare today!

- 1 Follow us on Facebook for up-to-date alerts.
- 2 Visit our website for the latest banner alerts.
- 3 Sign up for emails delivered straight to your inbox.
- 4 Download our mobile app to easily view accounts while the credit union is closed.
- 5 Access your money through shared branching. HHCU is a part of a CO-OP with 5,000+ shared branches. Credit unions work together by allowing you direct access to your funds, especially during times of inclement weather. Look for this logo to see if a credit union is a shared branch.

Don't Let SEASONAL SPENDING Stress You Out

It's easy to embrace the warmer months ahead without breaking the bank. We believe that a affordable fun is possible with the right tools. Here are a few ways to get started:

- 1. Create a summer budget. By establishing a summer budget, you are laying the groundwork and expectations for your spending. See where your budget may need to be adjusted for the next few months to accommodate instances such as the air conditioning running more, kids being home from school, and vacations plans being made.
- 2. Explore the local outdoors. Taking an evening bike ride or stroll when the weather is tolerable is a great way to get outdoors while spending little to no money.
- 3. Check out local library programs. Visit your local library's website to explore frugal ways to partake in activities, crafts, games, clubs, and more.
- 4. Shop and save locally. Check out farmers markets near you to support local farmers that offer fresh produce and vegetables as well as other vendors in the market. Use your HHCU Freeway Checking and Visa Debit Card to make purchases this summer.
- 5. Open a summer savings account. Opening a separate account for summer spending can help you easily track your finances while avoiding tapping into other savings. Set up a savings account when you scan the QR code below!
