WAYS TO IDENTIFY Caller ID Spoofing

Spoofing is a form of cyber-attack where the attacker impersonates a trusted entity to trick individuals into believing they are a legitimate, trusted source. Here are some common signs of spoofing.

FAKE CALLER ID

The number showing up on your phone may look like it's from a trusted organization but is ultimately a spoofed number. Callers may use phone numbers that appear similar to a trusted source to appear legitimate.

UNEXPECTED CALL REQUESTS

If you didn't initiate the call or weren't expecting a call from the organization, be cautious. Legitimate businesses typically don't randomly call asking for personal details.

Stop potential fraud in its tracks. Always verify the source and double-check any communication that asks for personal information by contacting us directly through our official website or phone number. If you suspect a phishing attempt, report it immediately by contacting us at 713-864-4438. Stay vigilant and stay safe to protect your personal information.

PRESSURE TO SHARE SENSITIVE INFORMATION

If the caller pressures you for immediate personal information or payment over the phone, this is a major red flag. Real businesses will never ask for sensitive information this way.

UNUSUAL REQUESTS

Fraudulent callers may ask for payment via gift cards, wire transfers, or other non-traditional methods. Be aware that this is a strong indication of spoofing.
